The six fair-haired bridesmaids who attended Miss Barbara Jekyl and Mr. Francis McLary, M. P., at their recent wedding in London, were dressed in delphinium blue. Two small girls wore frocks of blue gauze and carried sheaves of blue flowers. Sir Herbert Jekyl gave his daughter away. Lord and Lady Aberconway, parents of the bridegroom, gave the bride a diamond tiara and a gold bace, and her father gave a set of sables. The bridegroom's gifts were an aquamarine and diamond pendant and a diamond and sapphire corsage ornament. Her sister gave her a grand piano, and the American ambassador and Mrs. Reid gave a pair of George III candlesticks.

An incident of the golden wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Lukei the past week was the presentation to them of a copy of The Evening Star of fifty years ago, in which there was a notice of their wedding in this city, which took place in the Congress Street M. P. Church.

Fete at Buckeystown.
The annual tournament and picnic for the benefit of St. Joseph's Church, Buckeystown, Md., will be held in Carroll Manor woods Wednesday next. The tournament will begin at 10 a.m., and there will be prizes for the victorious knights. Gov. Austin L. Crothers of Maryland and State Senator Blair Lee will make addresses, as will other public men.

There will be dancing, refreshments and all manner of comforts to make the day pass pleasantly.

Rev. Father McCabe, the pastor, has appointed a number of committees, who have co-operated with him for several years, for the various arrangements.

Trains leaving here at 8:30 will arrive two hours later at Buckeystown and twenty minutes later at Frederick. An automobile would easily cover the distance in an hour or so, and those going that way will ride through a pretty country, with much to make the journey diverting.
